It's Not All Negative: Antibody Drug Conjugates in HER-2 Low Breast Cancer

Session Date: 08/29/2023

Session Time: 11:00 – 11:45 AM (CST)

Target Audience

This continuing education (CE) session was planned to meet the needs of professional staff who deal with the selection and monitoring of medication(s) as part of their patient care duties, including pharmacists, RNs, APRNs, PAs, MDs.

Activity Overview

Historically, breast cancer Human Epidermal Growth Factor Receptor 2 (HER-2) pathology was identified as being positive or negative. This determined a patient's eligibility for HER-2 targeted therapy. However, recent data suggests another patient population exists: HER-2 low. Recent trials have identified antibody drug conjugates, like trastuzumab deruxtecan, that have efficacy in HER-2 low breast cancer patients. The DESTINY-Breast04 Trial describes the efficacy of trastuzumab deruxtecan in advanced, previously treated HER-2 low breast cancer. This presentation will provide an overview of the current trials that have evaluated the HER-2 low population and the place trastuzumab deruxtecan has in HER-2 low breast cancer therapy.

Learning Objectives

At the conclusion of this knowledge-based CE session, participants should be able to:

1. Describe HER-2 expression and the significance of introducing a HER-2 low classification to breast cancer management.
2. Explain the unique characteristics of antibody drug conjugates used for breast cancer.
3. Evaluate the use of trastuzumab deruxtecan in the treatment of HER-2 low breast cancer.
