Hispanic/Latina Women in Medicine: Critical Needs for Empowerment and Transformation in Practice 2024

September 13-15, 2024

Jeanette Schnierle, MD, MPH

Internal Medicine Chief Resident 2024-2025 - The Ohio State University

Primary Care Attending Physician – Nationwide Children’s Hospital

Specialties: Internal Medicine & Pediatrics

Jeanette was born in Mexico and raised in Michigan. She completed her undergrad at Harvard University where she studied Neurobiology with a minor in Ethnic Studies. She went to medical school at The Ohio State University, where she was a member of the Gold Humanism Honors Society and was actively involved in LMSA and La Clínica Latina, a student-run clinic for Spanish-speaking patients in the Columbus area. She completed a Master’s in Public Health at Harvard University, where her studies focused on health disparities and published a literature review on implicit bias. She recently completed her Med/Peds residency at The Ohio State University/Nationwide Children’s, where she won multiple teaching awards and was recognized for her commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. She is currently an IM Chief Residency at Ohio State University and plans to pursue a career in primary care or hospital medicine with a continued emphasis on medical education and advancing diversity and inclusion efforts.
