Staying PrEPared: Latest in HIV Prevention

Session Date: 09/03/2024

Session Time: 11:00 – 11:45 AM (CST)

Target Audience

This continuing education (CE) session was planned to meet the needs of professional staff who deal with the selection and monitoring of medication(s) as part of their patient care duties, including pharmacists, RNs, APRNs, PAs, MDs.

Activity Overview

Pre-Exposure Prophylaxis (PrEP) has been a significant advancement in the prevention of HIV infection. Historically, PrEP pharmacotherapy options have included daily oral medications such as tenofovir disoproxil fumarate/emtricitabine and tenofovir alafenamide/emtricitabine. However, the landscape of PrEP has expanded with the development of new medications and formulations such as cabotegravir, the first and only FDA approved long-acting injectable for HIV prevention. This presentation will review literature regarding current PrEP medications and a potential novel long-acting injectable, lenacapavir, for HIV prevention, while discussing the optimal selection of a pharmacotherapy regimen given individual patient characteristics.

Learning Objectives

At the conclusion of this knowledge-based CE session, participants should be able to:

1. Describe drug therapy options for HIV PrEP.
2. Discuss clinical trials and currently available data evaluating lenacapavir for HIV PrEP.
3. Identify factors to consider when selecting PrEP strategies for individual patients.
